Application for Group Therapy Training Program

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Group Therapy Training Program is a one-year course of study of the theory and practice of group therapy facilitation. Faculty includes senior group therapists and experts in group psychotherapy from within The Psychotherapy Institute (TPI) and the larger community.

The program includes:

- Weekly process learning group
- Individual consultation
- Monthly didactic workshops
- Monthly Group Development course
- Group facilitation experience

Up to 8 individuals will be accepted into this program, in order to allow for a consistent small-group experience throughout the training. The program begins in September and lasts for 12 months.

The goals for participants of the Group Therapy Training Program are:

1. Develop basic fundamentals and skills in psychodynamic group therapy;
2. Understand the dynamics of groups as a whole, among members, and with the leader as authority;
3. Identify and develop each participant's individual style of group facilitation;
4. Develop the use of the individual's Self in the facilitation of psychotherapy groups;
5. Learn the process and tasks of developing groups.

QUALIFICATIONS

- Applicants must be licensed in California to practice independently in a mental health field (psychiatry, social work, psychology, marriage/family therapy, nursing).

- Advanced interns will also be considered.
- Applicants must have the capacity for introspection and self-awareness.

FEES

A $50 application fee must accompany the application. The fee for the 12-month program is $250/month. Participants in the Group Therapy Training Program become members of The Psychotherapy Institute; membership fees are $75 for the first year and $110 thereafter.
